Fall 2009 General Registration Information

Registration Periods

For most categories of students, there are three distinct registration periods: early, regular, and late. While each registration period is described below, the specific dates for these periods is provided in the section entitled "Registration Procedures by Enrollment Classification."

Early Registration

Early registration begins well in advance of the upcoming semester and proceeds in three phases based upon enrollment classification: 1) approved December 2009 degree candidates; 2) all continuing students; and 3) reentry, transfer, new freshmen, and LTC students. August 7 is the payment deadline for students who register during this period. Students who fail to meet this payment deadline will be charged a $25 late fee and may have their schedules purged.

Regular Registration

Once early registration concludes, regular registration begins. This second phase of registration continues through the payment deadline, August 7. Students who fail to meet this deadline will be charged a $25 late fee and may have their schedules purged.

Late Registration

Students who register on or after August 7 are considered late registrants and will be charged a $25 late fee. Those who schedule during this period must pay tuition and fees on the day that they schedule classes.

Please note that you are not considered "registered" until tuition and fees have been paid. Thus, students needing verification of enrollment for the upcoming semester must pay their tuition and fees before such verification can be provided.

Account Holds

Students will have a hold placed on their RPCC accounts when they are late paying tuition and fees, returning library books, submitting admission documents, etc. Students with account holds are generally not permitted to schedule classes for the upcoming semester until the holds have been resolved. Students who attempt to schedule when they have a hold will have their registration forms rejected, and they will be required to submit a new form once their hold has been cleared.

Service Learning Courses

Service learning courses provide students with structured learning experiences that include participation in activities that serve the community. This linking of academic studies to real-world issues serves to enrich the learning experience. Over the course of the semester, students enrolled in these courses will be expected to complete approximately four to six hours of volunteer service in the community. Service learning courses are identified as such in the Schedule of Classes included in this bulletin.

Course Load Limits

Regularly enrolled RPCC students are permitted to schedule a maximum of 19 credit hours for a fall or spring semester and 10 hours for a summer semester. The number of credit hours assigned to each course can be found in the "Course Descriptions" section of the RPCC General Catalog, available online at www.rpcc.edu.

Online Courses

At RPCC, online courses are delivered in two different ways: 1) directly through RPCC and 2) through RPCC by way of LCTCS Online. As noted in the following paragraphs, the registration process for online courses varies according to the delivery method.

Courses Directly through RPCC

A small number of courses are offered directly through RPCC. These courses are marked as online courses in the Registration Bulletin and can also be identified by their section code, which will begin with the letter "E." Students who have been admitted to RPCC and who wish to sign up for these classes must first pass an online pretest. This fifteen-minute pretest is designed to determine if a student has the minimum computer literacy skills needed for success in an online class. To complete this pretest, go to www.rpcc.edu/ocpretest.cfm. The Library will e-mail students to notify them of their pretest results. Only after passing this test will students be allowed to schedule online courses.

Courses through RPCC by Way of LCTCSOnline

LCTCSOnline provides a single web site where students can register for and take online courses offered by RPCC and other community colleges across the state. Students who wish to take online courses through this mode of delivery must go to <https://secure.ecollege.com/lctcs/> to apply and register for LCTCSOnline courses. You may also visit this web site for more information about LCTCSOnline.

Please note that LCTCSOnline courses follow a separate academic calendar. Thus, the registration dates (and all other dates on RPCC's academic calendar) listed in the bulletin do not pertain to LCTCSOnline classes. You must refer to <https://secure.ecollege.com/lctcs/> for the academic calendar for LCTCSOnline courses.

Once available, the list of LCTCSOnline courses will be posted at the end of the fall schedule of classes. These courses are noted as LCTCS Online courses and can also be identified by their section code, which begins with the letter "Z."

Financial Aid

All students who wish to apply for the Federal Financial Aid programs (Pell Grant and Stafford Loans) for the fall 2009 semester must complete the 2009-2010 FAFSA form. This form may be completed online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. The school code for RPCC is 037894.

Parking and ID Cards

Parking

All RPCC students must properly display a parking decal by the last day to add classes during their first semester at RPCC. Decals must be affixed to the rear window. Students may obtain a parking decal during freshman advising or through the Office of Student Services located in Building C.

LTC students do not need an RPCC parking decal and may instead use the parking tag or sticker issued by their campus.

Parking in "handicapped-only" spaces requires a valid handicap parking permit and/or a Louisiana Office of Motor Vehicle issued identification card. RPCC does issue temporary medical permits for those who require short-term medical parking. Medical documentation confirming a medical condition must be presented at the time of application.

ID Cards

Every registered RPCC student must obtain an ID card to use Library Services. Students may obtain an ID card during freshman advising or through the Office of Student Services located in Building C.

Library Services

Library Services consists of both the Library and the Learning Resource Center. Both have study tables and computers for student use. Books, videos, DVDs, CD-ROMs, and calculators can be checked out at the Service Desk in the Library. Books have a loan period of 28 days, and videos, DVDs, CDs, and calculators may be checked out for 2 days.

Students can access the Library's online resources anytime from a computer via RPCC's homepage, <http://www.rpcc.edu>. Just click on "Library."

The Library has a copier and a printer for student use at 10¢ per page. Print cards are necessary and must be purchased with a one-dollar bill from a card dispenser located in the Library.

Accommodations

In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), the Office of Counseling Services coordinates accommodations and services for students with documented disabilities. Students with disabilities that affect academic functioning may contact this office at (225) 675-8270 to find out more about applying for accommodations.

Students who are already registered for services with and approved for accommodations by the Office of Counseling Services must fill out the Semester Accommodations Request Form (www.rpcc.edu, Current Students, Disability Services) each semester in order to receive their accommodation letters. This form can be completed once the student has scheduled classes for the upcoming semester.

Students may purchase textbooks from any bookseller of their choosing. Below are some of the vendors from whom our students have purchased books.

Important Reminders

1. Online and drop-off registration are available to regularly-enrolled continuing students only. A continuing student is one who is regularly enrolled at RPCC during the spring and/or summer 2009 semester. (Cross-enrolled and dually-enrolled students cannot use online or drop-off registration.)
2. Only simple schedule changes are permitted through drop-off registrations and not in online registrations. Continuing students who want to make any other schedule changes must attend a group scheduling session.
3. Students who want to take online courses must first pass the online pretest, www.rpcc.edu/ocpretest.htm, before attempting to schedule an online course.
4. Classes begin on Monday, August 24! See the Academic Calendar for other key dates.

How to Prepare for a Group Scheduling Session

If earning a degree at RPCC, fill out your degree audit (i.e., curriculum sheet) so that you can see what courses you still need. Degree audits are available online (www.rpcc.edu) and in the Office of Student Services. As you are completing your degree audit, it may be helpful to have a copy of your academic history, which shows all courses completed as well as those in progress. This may be obtained from the Office of Student Services (Building C) with an RPCC or other official picture ID.

If transferring to another institution:

1. Go to the transfer institution's web site and locate their catalog online. Then, look through the catalog to find your chosen curriculum or degree program. Print a copy of the curriculum, and bring it with you to your group scheduling session.
2. Go to the Louisiana Board of Regents Statewide web site, <http://www.regents.state.la.us>, and select "Data and Publications" on the left navigation bar. On the next page, scroll, to "Articulation," and then use the general education, natural sciences, and business matrices to identify courses at RPCC that will satisfy degree requirements at the transfer institution. RPCC staff will also be available during the advising session to help you with this. You may wish to print your own copies of the matrices.

Group Scheduling Session Dates and Times

Once admitted, re-entry and transfer students will be contacted by the Office of Student Services and instructed to sign up for a scheduling session. Continuing students must call (225) 675-8270 or come by the Office of Student Services to register for any session on or before Friday, August 7. Beginning Monday, August 10, students will be seen on a walk-in basis at these sessions.

The dates and times below are tentative and subject to change. Please make sure to arrive at the beginning of the session. If you are not able to attend, please call and re-schedule.
