

Blackboard at RPCC

What is Blackboard and why do I have to use it?

- Blackboard provides an online course management site for your instructors to post announcements, assignments, handouts, tests, the course syllabus, other electronic files, and send emails that support your learning and the course objectives.
- Many instructors supplement their classroom lecture with materials they post on Blackboard. You must access your Blackboard account regularly or you may miss important information about your courses. Some instructors require assignments to be submitted to them via Blackboard.
- RPCC also posts general announcements, tutorials, and information from the administrative departments (Financial Aid, Student Services, the Business Office, the Library, etc.) which may be helpful to you as a student.

How do I access and login to Blackboard?

- Access your Blackboard account from the RPCC homepage (www.rpcc.edu) or directly at <http://lctcs.blackboard.com>.
- Click on the Blackboard link in the left vertical menu. This will take you to the RPCC Blackboard Help Page which provides tutorials, information, and help with setting your computer up for optimal access to Blackboard and files stored on Blackboard.
- Click on the link to the Blackboard Login site at the top of the RPCC Blackboard Help Page in order to access your Blackboard account via the Blackboard login page.

What is my username and password to login to Blackboard?

- rp + [your first initial] + [your last name] + [last 3 digits of your Social Security Number]
- Example: John Smith (SS# 123456789) – Username = rpjsmith789
- Your password is [rpcc] + {last 4 digits of your SS#} the first time you log in. Ex.: rpcc6789
- NOTE: Do not use hyphens, spaces, periods, or suffixes in your user ID.
- Contact Blackboard Admin at blackboard@rpcc.edu for Blackboard questions.

What should I do after I log into Blackboard?

- Change your password! Go to “Personal Information” under the ‘Tools’ menu on the left side of the page and change your password to something only you will know.
- Check your email address (also found in “Personal Information”). Your default email address is your RPCC student email account. Your instructor will contact you via the email address listed in Blackboard, so make sure it is the one you want to use or change it to a personal account which you access often!
