EVACUATION

Different emergencies require different evacuation needs. This booklet contains evacuation directions for most emergencies. When evacuation is not directed for the emergencies in this booklet or by obvious circumstances, you should stay where you are until given direction by emergency personnel.

The unpredictable nature of emergency situations requires quick action and clear thinking to avoid injury. The decision to evacuate is based on factors that give you the best chance of remaining safe and that avoid putting you in a more harmful situation.

When To Evacuate

1. Anytime you hear the fire alarm bells in your building.
2. If you smell smoke or know an actual fire is burning.
3. When instructed to do so by official safety personnel.

Certain circumstances may prevent safe evacuation. If this happens, move away from the danger and find shelter in an area with a window to allow rescue. Try to notify rescuers of your location.

When Not To Evacuate

1. When a tornado warning is sounded. (Find appropriate shelter within your building.)
2. During a hostile intruder situation, unless asked to do so by official safety personnel.
3. During a hostage/barricade situation.
4. During a power failure.
5. When instructed not to evacuate by official safety personnel.

These situations require you to stay put initially. Emergency personnel will direct you when it is safe to evacuate.

What To Do If You Must Evacuate

1. Listen carefully to instructions of emergency personnel.
2. Remain calm.
3. Close your office door as you leave.
4. Do not try to gather materials on the way out; leave quickly.
5. Keep talking to a minimum, but warn others who may not be evacuating or may not have been notified.
6. Exit via stairwells, not elevators.
7. Do not smoke.
8. Alert emergency personnel of any disabled persons who need assistance.

Area Evacuations

Certain emergencies may affect a specific area of campus. In this case, persons in those areas will be evacuated to a designated site on campus. Emergency personnel may then direct you to a primary or secondary evacuation site. Because of variable factors, such as the type of emergency and wind direction, the evacuation site will be designated at the time of the event and communicated via emergency telephones, e-mail, fax, and other means.

Campus Evacuation

An emergency that dictates the evacuation of the entire College will be handled in conjunction with the emergency procedures of Ascension Parish and the surrounding communities. People who have their own transportation should listen to radio, TV, and e-mail announcements identifying the designated exit routes from campus. Members of the campus community who depend on public transportation should congregate at the nearest bus stop, unless the area has been restricted. In that case, they should find another bus stop or call campus police for instructions. If the emergency involves a spill or release of airborne contaminants, sheltering in place may be used in lieu of evacuation. In such cases, the building coordinator/senior administrator will be notified and asked to spread the word.
